DETAILED ACTION

On September 4, 2007, an Office Action was sent to the Applicant rejecting claims 1-8 and 10-21. On December 4, 2007, the Applicant responded with arguments.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-8 and 10-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Johnson (6,598,029) in view of Iino (5,873,251), as set forth in the previous Office Action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed December 4, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The Applicant argues that neither Johnson nor Iino disclose or teach a control node; the moderator, which receives the bids and asks also generates a route plan to deliver electricity; or a control node that receives the bids and asks, matches the bids and asks, and also generates a route plan for matched buyers and sellers that takes into account the supply and demand conditions received through the feedback loop. In response, Johnson discloses an auction service that will stimulate competition (col.6, lines 1-8), in which bids and asks are received and matched. A control computer, which may be operated by a moderator, (control node) receives bid information and selects the matches (col.6, line 65 to col.7, line 24). The controller (moderator) is responsible for scheduling the delivery that takes into account the supply and demand conditions, depending on capacity utilization or other energy availability factors (col.3, line 53 to col.4, line 16 and col.7, line 24 to col.8, line 10). Therefore, the Examiner is interpreting Johnson as reading onto the invention substantially as claimed.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
